
Hugh Culver, MBA. Principal, Marathon Communications Inc.

Hugh Culver is an athlete, adventurer, businessman, visionary, and the kind of person who certainly understands the incredible power of being passionate and inspired about your work.

After fifteen years as a professional whitewater guide and manager of the largest adventure travel company in Western Canada, Hugh turned his interests to pioneering and marketing adventure tours to the South Pole, mountain climbing expeditions and even golfing at the North Pole.

TRAINER FACILITATOR SPEAKER

As founder and president of Marathon Communications Inc., for the past 11 years Hugh has been leading training programs and corporate retreats designed to foster human development in the context of work. These extraordinary programs focus on Team Development, Leadership Skills, Customer Service, and Personal Mastery. His clients include TELUS, Bank of Montreal, Province of British Columbia, CIBC, Silver Star Mountain, and Mountain Equipment Co-op.

Hugh is also a remarkable facilitator that can bring a meeting to life with a positive, proactive and decisive approach. He has been instrumental in advancing the success of film commissions, banks, government, recreation facilities, and high technology, accounting, health care, and manufacturing organizations.

As a keynote speaker, Hugh will ignite your audience with his authentic enthusiasm for success, happiness, and prosperity. His carefully crafted messages are infused with humour and the wisdom of a leader that has worked with over 1,000 organizations.

In addition to his training work, Hugh launched the largest conference in Canada on Spirit in the Workplace for business leaders and Dare2Dream™ a youth leadership sea kayaking program on the West Coast of British Columbia.
